Research & Development

It pays to be different

The average tax saving for qualifying SME's in the UK is £61,514

Research and development (R&D) tax credits are a valuable government tax relief that rewards British companies for investing in innovation.

What counts as R&D?

If your company fits into one of the following criteria you could qualify for R&D tax relief:

- You are a company that make things!
- You are a fast growing company
- You are market leading
- You are involved in any form of innovation
- You work on projects

We help Companies across all sectors receive thousands of pounds every month to re-invest back into their businesses.

Our large team of chartered tax advisers save you time by preparing a robust claim that uncovers all of your R&D activity and costs. Our service is completely end-to-end, which includes dealing with HMRC on your behalf.

Here are some of the industries where R&D claims have been made

- Manufacturing
- Admin & Support Services
- Construction
- Financial & Insurance
- Health & Social Work
- Education
- Transport & Storage
- Agriculture, Forestry, Fishing
